COMPETITION RULES

Theme:

We live in a world of fragrances that surround us. Their richness and variety often interpenetrate each other, which becomes an inspiration to create fragrance notes through images. Each painting should contain as many fragrance notes as you can imagine and picture.

The subject of the Competition works may be places, e.g. a forest, city, park, village, etc. or things: a freshly made bed, with a cup of tea next to it, which is enjoyed by someone by the open window. It can be a light smell of wood, polish and flowers, the aroma of the oil rising from the aroma lamp, or perfume. It can also be the smell of rain, permeating with the vapors of passing cars and the pleasant smell emanating from the restaurant.
